Coach Martin Wants Dual Games With Three Colleges Here in 1917.

Overtures made to Penn State College by the Maryland Agricultural College for a dual meest next spring may result in bringing the Pennsylvanians here next year, according to Coach W. C. Martin, of the Penn State team. The Aggies have asked for a dual meet next year, and if suitable arrangements can be made, the Penn Staters will come here for one and possibly two sets of Yesterday's dual meet with George-town at the Hilltop resulted in a St to 23 score for the visitors, who presented a well balanced aggregation. Penn State is anxious to open negotiations with another college in this section of the country, and will lay plans for holding a dual meet with George-town, the Maryland Aggies, Hopkins, and Virginia again next year. The Penn State runners would come into this section of the country for ten days during the holidays next season.

April. Yesterday's meet was a walkover for the visitors who presented an evenly balanced aggregation. There were no stars in any of the events, and while the times were exceptionally fast in sev-eral events no records were broken by the Penn men.

Harry Weidman and Marshall Low, of Georgetown, gave, by far the most spectacular performances of the afternoon. Weidman vaulted 12 feet % inch. After winning at a lower height, Weidman went up over tweive feet with comparative else. Low got 5 feet 11% inches in the high jump, making his mark after winning at 5 feet 7 inches.

O'Connor and Green finishing first and second in the shot were the only other first and second place winners for the Blue and Gray. In all other events the Penn Staters galloped off with many points.

ATTRACTS GOLFERS

Philadelphia's Odd Scheme May Be Followed By Capital Links Authorities.

Washington southpaw golfers are greatly interested in the proposed tournament to be played at North Hills Country Club, Philadelphia, by players who work from the wrong side, and it is possible that a local tournament may be arranged for left-handers.

Such a tourney, if staged in Washing ton, would cause widespread interest, as it would be the first of the kind ever held in this section of the country. The local clubs include on their rosters a number of left-handed players of pronounced ability, the most notable of them being Sam Dalzell, of the Chevy Chase Club.

Frank Phelps, Robinson White, Frank Govern, and Cy Cummings, of the Co umbia Country Club, are all "offhanders" and creditable performers. Carl Minnegarode, of the Chevy Chase and Grunnel, of the Washington Country Club, should prove strong contenders in the proposed tourney. It is suggested that a handicap event might prove more satisfactory, considering the necessarily limited entry, and the pre-eminence of several of the loca "portsiders" at this style of game.

Reports from the Quaker City state that a large entry has already been registered.

The dates for teh tourney have not as yet been given out, but it is understood that they will fall in the late spring or early summer.

The qualification round for the monthly colsed tourney of the Columbia Country Club is stated to be put under way today. It is probable that match play will begin in about ten days.

The Merion Cricket Club, which will hold the national amateur championship this year, will spend $10,000 for improvements in the course before September. The chief work will be the construction of new greens for the eighth and seventeenth greens on the east course, which is to be used for the championship. New tees will be built throughout the course, and the ninth green will be changed in several respects.

Robert A. Gardner, of Chicago, the holder of the national golf champion-ship, is to be married in Chicago on May 6 to Miss Katherine Frances Keep. Mr. Gardner's golfing friends in the East have received invitations to the wedding.

Georgetown got two in the third by clean hitting and went along for an apparent win up to the eighth. Dick Harley, former Georgetown coach and player, kept his Penn State players on edge throughout the game, and waiting until the eight got the break which decided the battle. Breadin messed up Wetherald's infield tap and hit G. Sullivan in the back in throwing his sacrifice to Cass. Blythe grounded out, but Eobinson was hit. Johnson singled, scoring Wetherald, and Ereslin thumped Wheeling in the ribs and was yanked. Lem Owen's second toss was pasted into right for a double by Ewing, and two runs scored. Moore singled through Cusack for two more counters. Kelley retired the side in the ninth. Jack Breslin's wildness in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with Penn State, followed by some heavy clouting of Lem Owen's offerings after he had been substituted for Breslin, netted Penn State enough runs to win a 6 to 2 battle from Georgetown at the Hilltop yesterday.

Weise and Harry Sullivan were the Kelly and Cuff.
